ASTROLOGY 101

Learn the astrology basics and know your role in the cosmos.

Through the Cosmic Plan, your soul is embedded with endless hymns of the Universe.

The ebb and flow of stars threaded into your soul self.

Take notice, as your experience is the ultimate path to your destiny.

Toward your everlasting light, love, and evolution.

This is your key.

WHAT IS ASTROLOGY?

At some point in your life, you most likely stumbled across a newspaper clipping featuring your sun sign revealing what is in store for you. It can be awe-inspiring or quite terrifying. Leaving someone else to reveal your fortune can raise a hair or two behind your neck. This is known as pop astrology, and I would like to call it graze astrology. This methodology is multilayered and cathartic. Pop astrology can be fun and humorous. However, it can be downright mean and stereotypical. Reading this form of astrology can be disempowering, misleading, and surface-leveled. It is in no way impactful or healing.

Or you may have seen astrological symbols embedded in gothic cathedrals such as Notre Dame in Paris or urban spaces such as the ceiling of the Grand Central Station Terminal in New York City. The astrological symbols are all around us and within our psyche. There is some enigmatic pull that this modality extends for humanity, and we, as souls, feel some form of energetic awakening as we tune in.

Astrology goes as far back as 5,000 years ago as recorded, and most cultures have extended their interpretation of the skies above. It is thought that astrology's origins started in Babylon, and then the Greeks interweaved their synthesis, eventually becoming the mainstream influence of Western Astrology that we use today.

Astrology is recorded to be the most widely searched subject on the internet. We have to wonder why humanity is so fascinated by this ancient system of thought. On a soul level, we may be inspired to learn why we act a certain way. Every day the planets are in a unique formation orchestrating their purpose, and we, as souls, live out its rhythm. Learning its codes can help us realign our soul's needs and bridge the understanding of life.

It awakens us from a deep slumber, and our light begins to shine its radiance. We become more aligned with the Creator, and as recorded in the second verse from the Hermetic text from the Emerald Tablet, "As above, so below." We become the co-creators of life as we reflect the planetary stories playing in the starry heavens.

LET'S TALK ABOUT ASTROLOGY AND HOW IT CAN EMPOWER YOUR LIFE

Astrology reminds us that we are the living embodiment of the Divine. We all contain a fragment, a spark of the Divine, and it is in our free will to live out the life we desire. Whenever we live in a continuous rhythm leading to an abyss or no progression, this is commonly known as the “desert period” in our lives. The ennui phase is when we experience disempowerment or lack of motivation in fulfilling our goals. Or this feeling that you are meant to do something more.

It is officially your soul's wake-up call. The cosmos gifted this moment to invite a change in your life. This happens whenever we are living out our true calling as a soul. Returning to the flow with our true selves is a path that can lead to improved finances, better relationships, health, and more. This starts the changes whenever we designate a space to understand ourselves more deeply. Through conscious awareness, astrology can open that door to you finding liberation and healing.

Mankind is experiencing a growth in consciousness. Believe it or not, you are a key benefactor in this life. We are all interconnected and here to move humanity to a brighter future. We all play an important role as souls. Your astrological birth chart holds the key to how you can contribute to humanity's ascension process.

Learning more about your astrology chart can invoke incredible changes. It helps bridge the connection to life around you. This shift in thought alone can invoke massive changes. Becoming more attuned to your birth chart will guide you throughout your journey.

[NOTE] This guide is meant to help you learn the basics of astrology while receiving insights about how you can locate your planets in your birth chart. This is a beginner guide to help you get started and know your placements. You can always refer to this guide to develop a relationship with your planets and familiarize yourself when listening to astrology forecasts.

OUR COSMIC ALIGNMENT

Each phase in our life experience, whether traumatic or blissful, stems from the planetary dance in the skies above. We all go through the ebbs and flows of life, and the planets reveal the themes to be presented in our experience and the response we extend is by our own free will. The birth chart we hold now illustrates our response to life and how we can heal from the intensity of the lessons we learn.

For instance, lacking motivation and momentum can indicate that your Mars placement is not being implemented. Or if you are attracting a certain type of relationship that does not fulfill you, perhaps you are not fully embodying your Venus expression. As we live on in our cosmic story, a tugging in our soul reminds us to pay attention whenever we are not fully satisfied. That dragging and exasperated feeling you may be experiencing indicates that you are not in full alignment in your journey.

Our alignment can be revelatory as you learn to notice the cues your soul is sending in your direction. This can fall into the categories that cover our life purpose, relationships, career choices, etc. Now, where are you feeling earthbound and weary in your experience? The first thought that comes to mind is an indicator that the review is an order. Astrology is the guiding key to liberating our souls.

When we trust the process, our soul can be the driver instead of fear-based ego-self.

Astrology is the modality that can provide the keys that can help you be in celestial alignment and how you can connect with your soul's happiness. Every celestial body extends its lessons to help you embody your soul's unique expression. Everyone has their version of happiness, and when we look to others' fulfillment, we may miss the mark in our perception of happiness, hence the reason why if you decide to learn your planetary keys, you will learn the ways that you reconnect to self to heal and pave the way in your terms.

Now let's ascend to the cosmic skies above and learn the zodiac, houses, and planets to help you learn the basics when working with your birth chart.

Tools Needed to Get Started

Date, Location, and Time of birth

From the moment you took your first breath, this was the time recorded in your birth certificate. This is an essential component when having your astrology birth chart cast. Knowing your birth time is key for accuracy. You will need your birth time because the angles of the birth chart shift if the time is incorrect, and the rising sign, aka the ascendant, will change the filtered lens of your birth chart story.

In times when you don't have this information, a chart rectification is an order to receive the full benefit of using this book or to know how to work with your birth chart. A professional astrologer is your go-to guide in this scenario.

You will do yourself a service by consulting with an astrologer that specializes in this practice. This is a lengthy process but worth it. Be sure to gather valuable information regarding significant events/timeframes in life. It can fall in various traumatic events, wedding days, births, etc. Also, gathering pictures of yourself at periodic points in your life, such as when you were a baby, adolescent, teen, and adult years, is recommended. This will help the astrologer key in the features that can align with your ascendant. The JOURNEY AROUND THE ZODIAC

Zodiac Themes at a Glance + Planetary Rulership

I would love to point out now that the signs were arranged in a unique formation that mirrors the experiences we all go through as souls. Starting from Aries, it represents the newborn child and ends with Pisces the elder. Not to say that all Aries are newborns forever, but they have an opportunity to live out their lives constantly embedded with the new and are given the spark of promise in their life journey. While Pisces may see or experience life as a twilight period enriched with sage wisdom and anecdotes for others to benefit from as they move onto the next realm of life. Remember that all the signs have a designated role and hold no greater value than the other. We all have a role to play in this life, and as we learn how to unearth this realization in our journey, healing and empowerment unfold.

Aries are known to be dynamic, bold, and daring. Through their warrior/leader-type personality, they can take on the world with great stride and confidence.

Planetary ruler - Mars

Taurus is an earthy and patient being with an appreciation for nature. Taurus possesses sheer will and steadiness in all accomplishments, whether in goals or romantic pursuits.

Planetary ruler - Venus

Gemini rules duality and opposites, they are whimsical and creative in their approach to life. Their artistic personality is often expressed through great communication skills through their sense of style.

Planetary ruler - Mercury

Cancer is known to be compassionate and nurturing and possesses such camaraderie with humanity. They value the ways of old and have the talent for spreading wisdom to others.

Planetary ruler - Moon

Leo exudes the most expansive presence of the zodiac with their solar-infused energy. They are distinguished and proud of all accomplishments achieved.

Planetary ruler - Sun

Virgo is witty, charming, and timeless. Often known as the perfectionist of the zodiac, this would apply to all their ambitions. Virgos strive to be productive, organized, and reliable.

Planetary ruler- Mercury

Libra exudes an air of pleasantry and beauty. Through being impartial, their outlook is to maintain grace and balance in all situations.

Planetary ruler - Venus

Scorpius are known to be rather deep and mysterious. They are the most alluring of all the signs of the zodiac, they represent strength, power, and transformation.

Planetary ruler - Pluto

Sagittarius has a flair for life and a love of exploring the new. They have boldness and the need to spread laughter and wisdom to others.

Planetary ruler - Jupiter

Capricorns approach life with great strides and will stop at nothing to achieve their goals. Through patience and goodwill, they can take on many tasks with methodical concentration.

Planetary ruler - Saturn

Aquarius individuals are eccentric, and independent, and need to express their uniqueness. This sign connects with people from all walks of life through compassion.

Planetary ruler - Uranus

Pisces is the otherworldly dreamer that desires to witness coexistence in the world. As the last sign of the zodiac, Pisces beings are said to contain an aspect of the previous signs.

Planetary ruler - Neptune

THE ROLE OF THE SUN AND THE CELESTIAL BODIES

Each celestial body placed in the birth chart holds precedence in our journey. The term “celestial body” pertains to planets and other points of the birth chart that are not considered a planet, such as the Sun, Moon, asteroids, and the lunar nodes. In the list below, you will see keywords representing each celestial body that will be a part of your transformation process.

The planets in our birth chart can be seen as active contributors to the lessons presented to us in our story. From the moment you took your first breath, all the planets positioned stilled in that microsecond as you were born. This planetary orchestration will never repeat. The time you decided to be born, natural or cesarean birth, it was all a part of the plan. This cosmic orchestration at that moment will illustrate the themes you are meant to master by free will.

Here are the key points of what each planet represents in your birth chart.

Sun- The Soul's Vitality and Purpose
Moon- Security and Nurturing
Mercury- Communication and Ideas
Venus- Self-Love, Love, and Values
Mars- Power, Passion, and Physical Drive
Jupiter- Luck and Inspiration
Saturn- Structure and Discipline
Chiron- Inner Wounding and Healing
Uranus- Change and Liberation
Neptune- Dreams and Transcendence
Pluto- Transformation and Rebirth

Planets are the active agents in our human experience. Understanding the planet and its energetic influence allows you to navigate your life confidently.

Remember that you may feel more of an impact of a specific celestial body or more. As you learn more about your birth chart and where everything is placed, you will begin to gain conscious awareness of which area in your life that may need catering.

PLANETS AND THEIR ROLE IN YOUR BIRTH CHART

As you progress and develop a relationship with your planets, you will learn how to navigate your life by understanding its cosmic rhythms. In the next couple of pages, you will see how each planet holds a specific theme in your life.

The Sun

The Sun (Latin, Sol) is our life provider and vitality, spreading endless radiance in our lives. It fuels our soul and emits light wherever it touches the birth chart. In principle, this planetary body is our destination point, our overall soul essence. The shadow aspect can lead to arrogance, low self-esteem, and narcissism. When you start living out your Sun signs the highest expression, you connect to your Higher Self. As a soul, you can live out the expression of each sign if you ever decide to tune in.

Moon

The Moon is our emotion, intuition, and nourishment. This celestial body is the innermost self we may not disclose openly to others. It can sometimes be our setback if we put too much into this expression. Too much comfort leads to stagnation in our soul growth. The Moon represents the maternal figures in our lives and our past habitual patterning (past lives/childhood). Depending on the element of the moon sign, this can be a beneficial luminary involving our emotions aligning with our dreams (love, career, personal development).

Mercury

The messenger planet represents how we communicate with others and receive information. This planetary body is sometimes best implemented if stimulated through learning new systems. If your natal Mercury is unused, your productivity may be chaotic and restless. Actively involving oneself with attaining new information is key to receiving newfound insights/skills that will be proven useful in your journey.

Venus

Venus is our love language and means of making money. This celestial body is a higher octave in its effectiveness than the Moon. How we harness our Venus sign can lead to infinite abundance and prosperity. It is simply love, attraction, aesthetics, creativity, comradery, girl-positivity, and the sacred feminine. For those closely embodying feminine energy, Venus is the highest version of the goddess. As for men, Venus guides them upon how they are to honor and respect their own inner feminine essence, which also represents the other they wish to manifest.

Mars

Mars is our drive, passion, and zest. This is the planet that powers up your motivation. When unbalanced, we can be impulsive in our decisions, accident-prone, and argumentative. In a man's chart, it is the highest expression of their god-spark, and if implemented on a soul level, the Divine Masculine. In a woman's chart, it is projected as her inner masculinity as well as the counterpart they desire. Nothing can stand in the way of your momentum when tuning into the fiery planet.

Jupiter

Jupiter bestows luck and expansive opportunities in our natal charts as well as in transits. Due to its exuberant nature, it can overinflate good and challenging aspects. In your darkest hour and time of need, look to your Jupiter sign as the key and clue to where you can find the silver lining.

Saturn

This planet often receives a bad rep. However, this planet grants lots of rewards through integrating never-ending devotion to your priorities. Hard work reaps the eternal reward. Saturn is best described as the wise old teacher that many were afraid to approach in school. Once you develop more confidence and appreciation in the teachings (and do the work), Saturn will crack a smile of approval. This planet is associated with responsibility, discipline, focus, and self-mastery. Feelings of restlessness, limitation, and melancholy usually indicate an imbalance of your priorities. So long as you do the work, you will be granted everything you wish.

Uranus

Eccentricity, innovation, and liberation are the key components of this rebellion planet. It is also the key planet that can change your life in an instant moment. It is the planet that can connect you to your Higher Self and strengthen your intuition. When you take a moment and embrace the changes and go through the process of reinventing yourself, you will see how this divine intervention can bring forth its blessings.

Neptune

Like walking through a dream, Neptune is ethereal and mystical. It is the planet of mysticism and the arts. This expression brings forth the need to escape and see the overall picture through the eyes of the divine. It is the dissolution of your old self-ego. Your intuition and dreams can reach great heights when working with this planetary body. You can venture through this planetary expression with grace and ascension as long as you establish a strong sense of self.

Pluto

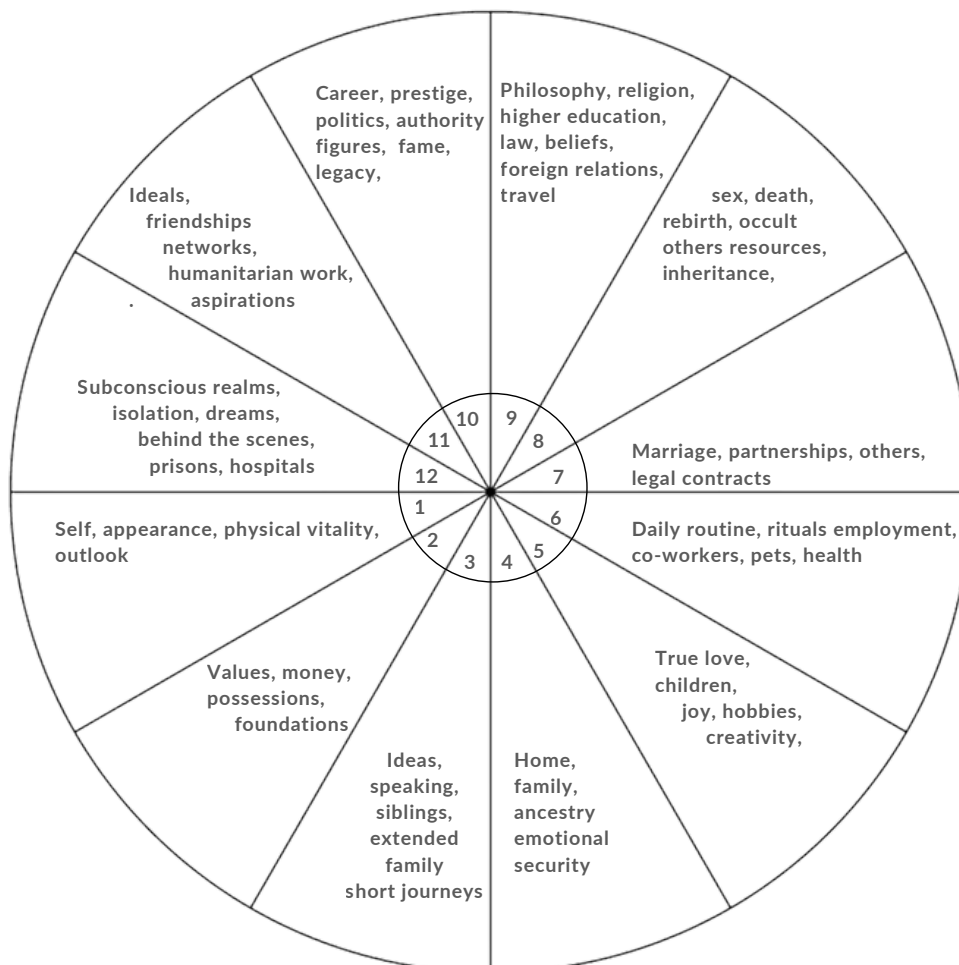

The dark night of the soul and eternal revolution. This planetary body can unearth your essence, and sometimes you may not even recognize the person you were yesterday. It is a constantly evolving process, and if you release control, you will see and appreciate your transition. The transformation endured may be felt in waves of tension, and once you surrender your old self, it will unlock the secrets of your soul.

Chiron

This asteroid is very impactful and the bridge between your past wounding and healing. This celestial body can make one feel doubt and uncertainty. This falls along the lines of external influences and/or even self-inflicting. Once you awake to the realization of the need to seek out the root of your pain, this is where the healing energies flow through. Beauty can be found once you alchemize your soul discovery and decide to heal others through your awareness.

THE 12 ASTROLOGICAL HOUSES

There are 12 houses in the birth chart, each representing a different aspect of our life experience. The second in which you took your first breath, a snapshot of the sky was taken at birth. It shows the orchestration of the planets and celestial bodies in the skies above. Every planet holds key information regarding the themes you are to experience. Wherever the planets were positioned in each house of your birth chart, it could reveal how you started your journey from birth to where you are now. The planets showcase the storylines you are to experience in this life, and where they are located in the houses are the scenes that reveal the lessons. The planets and houses all simultaneously work with one another in a synchronized motion. The planets and where they are situated will reveal the interaction between houses. There may be ease and flow and/or tension-filled exchanges, and how we utilize these planetary energies fall in our hands. For example, if your Sun resides in the 7th house of relationships, your approach towards soul mastery is learning how to integrate with others while maintaining your identity in partnerships.

ASPECTS

Now we will see how your planets can play out your story. Learning about the aspects will give you a better idea regarding the natural gifts you hold or the challenges that can lead to opportunity. Aspects in our birth charts hold the secrets to how we generate within our inner world and how it can manifest outwardly. However, we decide to harness the intensities or ease entirely within our free will expression. Note that the aspects you were born into are meant to be mastered and not used as an excuse to live out habits not serving your highest good. As you are made aware of mastering the archetypal language of the planets, you will be able to transmute the planetary energies to support your pathway to healing and empowerment. In the birth chart generator, you will have a list of which aspects you have between the planets in your birth chart. Feel free to write them out on your worksheet.

Conjunction - Intensity - 0-10 degrees together

This is when planets are close in degree with the other and in the same sign. Note that the maximum amount in the degree considered conjunction is 10 degrees. This planetary immersion can take you to extreme intensities in your experience and/or incredible breakthroughs in support. The closer together the degree, the more power or pronounced themes are added to the planetary bodies and their role in your story.

Trine - Ease - 120 degrees apart

Trines can be best seen as ease in our life expression. It is the jewel of the birth chart that we may sometimes overlook because it is an easy source to tap into. Trines can sometimes make us lazy in our journey, but if you decide to utilize them wholeheartedly, they can be a conduit of overflowing blessings.

Sextile - Support - 60 degrees apart

Sextile aspects are supportive as they provide sustenance and power in your journey. It is grounding, reliable, inspiring, and overall comfortable.

Square - Challenge - 90 degrees apart

Square aspects hold the most pressure in the birth chart. It is part of our journey in which we feel we cannot hold on, but as we hone in on our courage, it leads us to our soul's evolution. Square aspects send us continuous lessons that help us awaken the ability to master them. These intense moments shape our reality and push us to succeed.

Opposition - Balance - 180 degrees apart

Oppositions can be experienced as complementary and yet uneasy at the same time. This is the polarity point in aspect, and it can be revelatory as it shows the parts of us that we have reached that may be uncomfortable as it is unfamiliar territory. It is the mirror in our situation that we must look toward and welcome to bridge an understanding in our path.

THREADING EVERYTHING TOGETHER

Now, we will tie all the information together by interweaving your inner planets and how they are conversing. Note that the inner planets have to do with your personality and habits. To best understand this information, you can reflect on what you have learned about the planets and their energetic expression. To master this process and to keep it simple, note where (the house) the natal planet of interest is located. The next step is to see which other planet creates an aspect with the natal planet of interest. Remember that the closer in degree, the more influence and the limit of impact is 10 degrees. See the visual example below covering the Sun and the other planets in aspect.

If you wish to see these aspects without calculating them, you may visit this link and generate your planet and aspect grid. For this journal prompt, we are working with the inner planets such as the Sun, Moon, Rising, Mercury, Venus, and Mars.

My Sun is in [aspect] to my [ascendant/planet/asteroid/nodes]

Example chart

My Sun (22 degrees) is conjunct my Mercury (16 degrees) within 6 degrees

My Sun (22 degrees) is sextile to my Saturn (23 degrees) within 1 degree

My Sun (22 degrees) is sextile to my Neptune (14 degrees) within 8 degrees

My Sun (22 degrees) in trine to my Pluto (14 degrees) within 8 degrees

LOCATING YOUR INNER PLANETS AND ASPECTS – JOURNAL–ACTION PROMPT

Sun Aspects [conjunction, trine, sextile, square, opposition]

Knowing your Sun aspects and tying in the location of other planets in the houses of the birth chart that speak to it, what areas in your life have the most light and focus? Are you paying attention to these points in your life experience now? How can you invite a new flow in your story that interweaves with your purpose?

Moon Aspects [conjunction, trine, sextile, square, opposition]

Noting your Moon aspects and the way it is conversing with the other planets within the houses of your birth chart, what areas in your life need security, comfort, and understanding? Do you reflect and observe your feelings? What can you do to find comfort and self-acceptance in your journey?

Rising Aspects [conjunction, trine, sextile, square, opposition]

Observing your rising sign and planet, how do you show yourself to the world? What is your view of the world and the ideal reality? If you can reveal your most genuine of colors, how do you wish to express yourself?

Mercury Aspects [conjunction, trine, sextile, square, opposition]

Analyze which planets (if any) are conversing with your Mercury and the houses these planets are residing in. Where can you find a new outlet for inspiration? How do you effectively communicate? [Is it visual? audio?] What area in your life may undergo challenges involving communication? What can you do to improve this?

Venus Aspects [conjunction, trine, sextile, square, opposition]

Let's see how love plays out in your story. Note any aspects between your Venus and the other planets (if any). Observe the houses where Venus and the other planets may be in conversation. Is the interplay challenging or seamless? Knowing this information, do these planets reflect your love story and how it plays out? If you had the liberty to attract this tomorrow, what would you like to do to change or strengthen your love story?

Mars Aspects [conjunction, trine, sextile, square, opposition]

It is time to determine how you generate your inner magnetism and drive. Jot down the planets and their aspects with your Mars (if any). Is it hostile or in a healthy flow? Noting this information, how do you express your drive with your goals? Are you patient, hesitant, or impulsive? Knowing this, how can you invite a better outcome involving your motivation?

THANK YOU!

I see life as an experience, not fate based. We hold the power to define who we are. When life appears murky in color, that is our soul's red flag. As cosmic beings, we can invite joy and rise above the shadows of our traumas. When we aim to shine our inner light, that is when the Universe bestows its gifts of grace. Since I picked up astrology, my intuition and spiritual gifts heightened, and I felt more alive and confident.

In my astrology practice, I have serviced over 500 clients. My platform caters to those who wish to learn more about themselves and their limitless potential by actively working with their birth chart. My clientele ranges from all the walks of life, such as the spiritually curious, entrepreneurs, creatives, and social media stars, to CEOs of major corporations.

Along with my transformation life coaching practice, I have noticed that they all had a similar range of questions or issues, which is the feeling of being stuck and without direction regarding their decisions in life. Once I started to break down the concepts of their astrology birth charts in connection with their questions, they began to live more freely and found healing, radiance, and empowerment in their lives. Interpreting their birth charts sparked inspiration and gave them the confidence to live in complete alignment with their planets! This alone helped them attract the life of their dreams!

I have developed a safe, compassionate, and joyful space for all to confide in and a unique methodology called the Cosmic Alignment Program that uses natal planetary placements and esoteric healing practices to power up different aspects of life by energetic alignment.

Whether I am regenerating my astrological background, working with clients, posting on social media, writing for online publications, or hosting my podcast, Align Your Stars, my approach is heart-centered, empathetic, inspiring, and embellished with a dash of celestial magick.
