Get to Know Yourself Through
Your Sun, Rising & Moon Signs

LUMI PELINKU
YOU ARE CELESTIAL™

WELCOME

This is where our journey begins.

In Radiate, we will explore your Sun, Rising, and Moon signs, often called your Big Three. Through simple explanations and gentle reflection, you will begin connecting the symbols in your birth chart with the person living its story—you.

My approach is soul-centered. I see your chart as an invitation to recognize your strengths, understand familiar patterns, and make choices that honor who you are becoming. You have a voice in how your story unfolds.

You do not need to know every planet or decipher every symbol. Bring your curiosity, your birth chart, and a little willingness to see yourself with kinder eyes.

Perhaps your first encounter with astrology was a newspaper horoscope or a post about your Sun sign. You may have felt seen—or wondered how a few sentences could possibly capture who you are.

Pop astrology can be fun, but sometimes it leaves us with stereotypes instead of understanding. I call this graze astrology. It touches the surface when there is so much more waiting to be discovered.

Maybe that curiosity is what brought you here. You want to understand yourself beyond a label: what lights you up, how you meet the world, and what helps you feel at home within yourself.

Let’s get to know the light you carry.

YOUR RADIANT PLACEMENTS

Before we begin, let's find your place among the stars.
If you have already generated your birth chart, keep your results nearby. Otherwise, visit the birth chart generator at lumipelinku.com/birthchartcalculator and enter your birth date, accurate birth time, and birthplace.

FIND YOUR BIG THREE

In your results, look for the section called Astrological Details.
Your Big Three are listed there for you:

Sun Sign: _____
Rising Sign: _____
Moon Sign: _____

Your Rising sign is also called your Ascendant. You may come across both names as you explore astrology.

Save a screenshot of your results or write your signs above so you can return to them throughout this guide.

Don't know your birth time? Leave your Rising sign unconfirmed for now. Your Moon sign may also need checking if it changed signs that day.

PAUSE & REFLECT

Have you always related to your Sun sign, or felt there was more to you than its description?

Let's begin with your Sun—the light you are learning to recognize as your own.

YOUR SUN: THE LIGHT *W*ITHIN

Just as the Sun brings light and warmth to the world, your Sun sign offers clues to what brings you to life. It represents your sense of self, your vitality, and the qualities you are learning to express with confidence.

From a soul-centered perspective, your Sun is an invitation to recognize the light of the Divine within you. Each sign carries its own gifts and lessons—another way our uniqueness becomes part of the greater whole.

You may recognize yourself in your Sun sign immediately, or feel you are still getting to know it. There is room for both. Discovering who you are is something that unfolds as you live, learn, and grow.

GETTING TO KNO*W* YOUR LIGHT & SHA*D*O*W*

Every sign has expressions that support us and patterns that can leave us feeling stuck.

Your light shines through the gifts you express with awareness: perhaps courage, compassion, creativity, or patience.

Your shadow can appear when those qualities become harder to access or are taken to an extreme. Confidence might become a need for approval; caring for others might leave little room for yourself.

Noticing a shadow gives you a place to bring curiosity and care. You can choose how to respond.

As you explore your Sun sign, notice what feels familiar and what invites you to grow. Your chart offers possibilities; your lived experience helps you understand them.

P*A*USE & REFLECT

When do I feel most alive, expressive, and at home in myself?

YOUR SUN SIGN:
LIGHT, SHADOW & GROWTH

ARIES

Like a spark of fire, your courage can ignite new beginnings and inspire others to move forward. You feel alive when taking initiative and pursuing what stirs your passion. In shadow, that fire can become impatience or acting before considering the impact. Pause long enough to choose your direction, then let your boldness lead with care.

TAURUS

You have a gift for creating beauty, comfort, and a sense of steadiness. Fulfillment grows through nurturing what matters and allowing it time to take root. In shadow, familiar comforts can become something you cling to, even when change is needed. Trust the stability within you as you make room for something new.

GEMINI

Curiosity opens doors for you, and conversation helps you discover what lies beyond them. Your gift is gathering different perspectives and sharing ideas that help people understand one another.

In shadow, too many possibilities can leave you scattered or unsure of your own voice. Slow down and give yourself space to discover what you believe.

CANCER

Your sensitivity can help you create spaces where people feel safe, understood, and cared for.

A sense of home and belonging nourishes your spirit. In shadow, caring can become excessive worry or taking responsibility for everyone else's feelings. Let yourself receive the tenderness and support you so freely offer.

LEO

Creativity, generosity, and joyful self-expression help you feel most like yourself. When you embrace what makes you unique, you encourage others to recognize their own spark. In shadow, seeking approval can pull you away from what brings you happiness. Follow what delights your heart, and make room for others to shine beside you.

VIRGO

You notice the small things that can make life more thoughtful, meaningful, and manageable. Offering practical care and putting your gifts to good use can bring deep fulfillment. In shadow, the desire to improve can become perfectionism or harsh self-criticism. Allow yourself to learn through mistakes and treat your own humanity with kindness.

LIBRA

Connection, beauty, and fairness are threads you naturally weave into life. You have a gift for understanding different perspectives and helping people find common ground. In shadow, keeping the peace can mean overlooking your needs or remaining in one-sided relationships. Give your own voice equal weight, and let honest boundaries support lasting harmony.

SCORPIO

Emotional depth and resilience help you explore what lives beneath the surface. Understanding yourself honestly can open a path toward meaningful transformation. In shadow, past pain can become guardedness, resentment, or a need for control. Honor your feelings while allowing trust and new possibilities to grow at your own pace.

SAGITTARIUS

Discovery feeds your spirit, whether through travel, learning, or a conversation that changes your perspective. Sharing what you learn can help others find hope and imagine a wider world. In shadow, strong convictions can leave little room for different experiences or beliefs. Stay curious, and let listening become part of your adventure.

CAPRICORN

You have the patience and determination to give your dreams a lasting foundation. Working toward something meaningful allows you to express your strength and integrity. In shadow, achievement can become the measure of your worth, leaving little space for rest or connection. Let fulfillment include how you feel along the climb and who walks beside you.

AQUARIUS

Original ideas and a vision for change can inspire you to imagine new possibilities. Contributing to something greater feels meaningful when you also honor your individuality. In shadow, pressure to belong—or always stand apart—can draw you away from your own values. Stay rooted in yourself while remaining open to genuine human connection.

PISCES

Imagination, compassion, and spiritual curiosity bring richness to your inner world. Giving these gifts a creative or caring expression can help you feel connected and fulfilled. In shadow, absorbing others' pain or retreating into dreams can leave your own needs unheard. Gentle boundaries and grounding routines help you remain present while keeping your heart open.

THE ASCENDANT: THE ENERGY YOU BRING INTO THE WORLD.

If your life were a book, your Rising sign would be its cover—the first glimpse of the story within. Also called your Ascendant, it offers insight into how you approach new experiences, express yourself, and make your presence known.

Your Rising sign is the zodiac sign that was rising on the eastern horizon when you were born. This is why an accurate birth time matters when creating your chart.

Think of it as a window through which you experience life. You might enter unfamiliar situations with boldness, curiosity, sensitivity, or quiet observation.

Your Rising sign invites you to explore those instincts and notice how they support you—or when you might want to try another approach. From a soul-centered perspective, working with your Ascendant means bringing your outer expression into closer harmony with whom you feel yourself becoming. There is room to grow, soften old defenses, and let yourself be seen more fully.

As you explore your Rising sign, notice what feels familiar. You are getting to know another part of your story.

PAUSE & REFLECT

When I enter a new space, what do I naturally show—and what do I hold back?

Copyright © The Celestial Astrologer LLC. | All Rights Reserved

ARIES RISING

You meet life with courage, bringing a spark of possibility wherever you go. Your journey invites you to pursue what matters without turning every step into a competition. Pausing before acting helps you direct your fire with intention. Working with the color red energizes your will to initiate with an open heart.

TAURUS RISING

You approach life through your senses, noticing beauty and finding comfort in what feels steady. Your journey is to build security while remaining open to growth and change. Remember that your worth is already yours, whatever you own or achieve. Let green remind you to welcome fresh possibilities while staying rooted in self-love.

GEMINI RISING

You meet the world with curiosity, gathering ideas and discovering connections through conversation. Your journey invites you to recognize your own voice among the many perspectives you encounter. Give yourself quiet moments to sort through your thoughts and bring one idea into focus. Yellow symbolizes clarity as you find the words that feel true to you.

CANCER RISING

You may enter new spaces cautiously, sensing the atmosphere before opening your heart. Your journey is to create belonging while learning that your own needs deserve care, too. Notice when generosity becomes overextending, and allow yourself to receive support. Silver offers a reminder to pause, listen inward, and honor the ebb and flow of your feelings.

LEO RISING

Warmth, creativity, and a distinctive presence can shape the way you meet the world. Your journey invites you to express what lives in your heart without waiting for an audience to approve. Let joy guide your choices, and give yourself permission to begin before you feel completely confident. Orange symbolizes the creative spark you can return to whenever you need encouragement.

VIRGO RISING

You approach life with an observant eye, noticing what needs attention and how you might help. Your journey is to offer thoughtful care without making every problem your responsibility. Allow room for imperfection, including your own, as you build a life that supports you. Yellow can serve as a reminder to welcome clarity, curiosity, and a gentler inner voice.

LIBRA RISING

You meet the world with an eye for beauty and a desire to create connection. Your journey invites you to find harmony without leaving your own needs outside the conversation. Check in with yourself before agreeing, and let your preferences have a place beside everyone else's. Pink symbolizes tenderness and renewal, reminding you to include yourself in the love you give.

SCORPIO RISING

Your life is met with quiet intensity, while taking time to observe before revealing what lies beneath the surface. Your journey invites you to explore change while honoring your need for trust and emotional safety. Make room for your feelings without letting past pain write every new chapter. Magenta symbolizes transformation and compassion as you bring strength and tenderness together.

SAGITTARIUS RISING

You approach life with a sense of possibility, drawn toward experiences that broaden your world. Your journey is to discover your own truths while staying receptive to what others can teach you. Choosing one meaningful direction can help turn your enthusiasm into something tangible. Turquoise symbolizes wisdom and calm, offering a reminder to stay grounded as you explore.

CAPRICORN RISING

You may enter life's challenges with patience, purpose, and a strong sense of responsibility. Your journey invites you to build something meaningful while making space for your feelings and desires. Let mistakes become part of your learning, and remember that you do not have to carry everything alone. Indigo symbolizes discernment and inner steadiness as you choose what deserves your energy.

AQUARIUS RISING

You meet the world through an independent lens, often noticing possibilities beyond familiar expectations. Your journey is to honor your originality while finding meaningful ways to contribute and connect. Give your ideas room to evolve without feeling responsible for changing everything at once. Teal symbolizes renewal and courage as you explore unfamiliar paths.

PISCES RISING

You may approach life with imagination and sensitivity, noticing subtle shifts in the atmosphere around you. Your journey invites you to give your dreams a practical home while keeping your own needs in view. Creative outlets, gentle routines, and clear boundaries can help you feel more present. Blue symbolizes calm and reflection, reminding you to listen inward before saying yes.

THE MOON: THE *W*ORLD *W*ITHIN

In astrology, the Moon is the keeper of your emotional world. Your Moon sign offers insight into what feels like home, how you instinctively respond, and the care you need when life feels overwhelming.

It holds the tender, unguarded parts of you—the child who learned what felt safe to express and the self who emerges behind closed doors. Singing in the shower, feeling every word? Your Moon would understand.

Getting to know your Moon is an invitation to listen inward.

What helps you feel supported? What do you need but struggle to ask for? Your answers can help you care for yourself with greater understanding.Familiar does not always mean nourishing. Sometimes we react, withdraw, or care for everyone else because those responses once helped us feel secure.

Your Moon sign can offer a lens for exploring these habits with compassion. As you recognize what you feel and need, you create room to respond with more intention. Like the Moon's changing appearance in the sky, your feelings deserve room to shift. You can honor them while choosing how to move forward.

P*A*USE & REFLECT

When I feel overwhelmed, what do I reach for—and what would help me feel cared for?

ARIES MOON

Your feelings arrive quickly, often with an urge to act or speak your truth. Independence, movement, and room to make your own choices help you feel supported. When frustration flares, pause long enough to understand what needs your attention. You can honor your inner fire while choosing how to express it.

TAURUS MOON

Consistency, affection, and familiar comforts help you feel emotionally secure. Music, cooking, nature, or a peaceful space can give your feelings room to settle. When life feels uncertain, notice whether you are holding on tighter than you need to. Move at your own pace while allowing room for change.

GEMINI MOON

You often discover what you feel by talking, writing, or exploring an idea aloud. Curiosity and honest conversation help you feel connected and understood. When thoughts begin circling, pause to name the feeling beneath them. Let your words become a bridge between your busy mind and your tender heart.

CANCER MOON

Feeling safe, close, and cared for nourishes your emotional world. You may notice others' needs quickly and instinctively offer comfort. When caring for everyone leaves you depleted, return to what helps you feel held. Your sensitivity deserves the same tenderness you extend to others.

LEO MOON

Warmth, appreciation, and opportunities to express yourself help your heart feel nourished. Creativity, play, and being celebrated by people you love can bring you back to yourself. When recognition feels absent, remember that your gifts still matter. Make room for the joy you would pursue even without applause.

VIRGO MOON

Thoughtful routines and practical acts of care can help you feel emotionally grounded. You often show love by noticing details and making someone's day a little easier. When worry turns into fixing or self-criticism, give yourself permission to leave something unresolved. Sometimes your heart needs kindness more than a solution.

LIBRA MOON

Beauty, companionship, and mutual consideration help you feel at ease. You are sensitive to the quality of your connections and may instinctively smooth over tension. When keeping the peace means hiding your feelings, pause and listen to your own needs. Lasting harmony makes room for your truth, too.

SCORPIO MOON

Your emotional world runs deep, and trust matters before you reveal its tender layers. Honest connection and privacy give you space to feel secure. When hurt leads you to close yourself off, consider sharing a little with someone who has earned your trust. You can honor your depth without carrying everything alone.

SAGITTARIUS MOON

Exploration, learning, and something meaningful to look forward to nourish your spirit. You may find emotional clarity through a new experience or a wider perspective. When restlessness sends you chasing the next possibility, notice whether a feeling needs your attention first. Freedom can include staying present and letting yourself be known.

CAPRICORN MOON

Dependability, purposeful goals, and steady progress can help you feel secure. You often express care through commitment and showing up when it matters. When responsibility pushes your feelings aside, remember that rest and support do not have to be earned. Let someone see the heart behind your capable exterior.

AQUARIUS MOON

Friendship, fresh ideas, and the freedom to be yourself nourish your emotional world. You may need space to observe your feelings before sharing them. When understanding an emotion becomes easier than experiencing it, gently return to what is happening within you. Independence and closeness can have a place in the same relationship.

PISCES MOON

Imagination, compassion, and spiritual connection bring depth to your inner world. Music, creativity, and quiet moments can help you understand feelings that are difficult to name. When others' emotions begin to overshadow your own, step back and notice what you need. Your heart can remain open while your boundaries keep you anchored.
